Happy Spring
from the Ralph T. Coe Foundation!

We are settling in...

THANK YOU!
The Ralph T. Coe Foundation thank all those individuals who helped and continue to help with our move, building shelves, moving boxes and books, and the list goes on! Also our sincere thank you to our Ralph T. Coe Foundation Board and Advisory Committee members, as well as our volunteers. Also a special thank you to Sweet Harvest, who graciously has fed and continues to feed us, as well as is a wonderful neighbor.
Curatorial Report

Bruce Bernstein has been furiously working to organize the approximately 2000 works in the Foundation collection. He began by moving non-Native American works in their own storage room, then created a special Northwest Coast area located in our Window to a View storage room. Please visit us at one of our two upcoming open houses to witness our progress firsthand! But if curiosity has taken a hold of you, don’t wait, call us to make an appointment for a private tour.
Work-Study Intern

The Foundation continues to work toward settling into its new home. We are in the process of inventorying the collection, as well as organizing the library—with the help of our St. John’s work-study student, Maya Elsner. Maya is a sophomore at St. Johns and has come to the Coe Foundation through the St. Johns work-study program. Please join us in welcoming her!
OPENHOUSE!

Plain and Fancy: Native American Splint Baskets and Beyond...

Bruce is collaborating with Eva Fognell, curator at the Fenimore Art Museum in Cooperstown, NY to bring Plain and Fancy: Native American Splint Baskets to the Ralph T. Coe Foundation. The exhibition will go beyond the boundaries of the Northeast to include works from other areas of North America from the Foundation’s holdings. In addition, we will host a panel of artists, along with Bruce and Eva, to discuss the different aspects of basket making from collecting, how to see, as well as those issues affecting artists today. Please join us at the opening event on August 19, 2014.

...and Save the Date!

August 19, 2–6 pm, with panel discussion at 3 pm.
Mark Your Calendars and Help Us Make History...

On May 6, 2014, the Ralph T. Coe Foundation is joining more than 300 nonprofits in New Mexico and more than 100 other communities throughout the United States for a national day of local giving. Give Grande New Mexico is our state’s first Day of Giving and is part of a larger campaign called Give Local America. This partnership allows communities like Santa Fe to generate significant funds for causes right in our own backyard. With participation from communities across America, Give Grande New Mexico promises to be the single biggest giving day in history.

For one day, every dollar donated through Give Grande New Mexico to local nonprofits will be magnified through local and national matching funds. We are partnering up with the Community Foundation Coalition of New Mexico and other nonprofits to make New Mexico’s first Day of Giving memorable. Large and small gifts will combine for big impact as we raise significant funds that will do good for a lifetime.
